Claes Oldenburg
Jack Smith

The starting point for this exhibition is a giant pink cake that Claes Oldenburg designed in 1963 for Jack Smith's film Normal Love. The original cardboard maquette for this sculpture is shown alongside related artworks, books, ephemera, and archival material by both artists.

During the opening reception on March 9, 2024, Michael Sanchez will deliver a lecture that will subsequently be published as a pamphlet. Claes Oldenburg / Jack Smith is the second exhibition conceived together with Michael Sanchez in his role as director of the collection of Daniel Buchholz and Christopher Müller at Christophstraße 18.

We would like to thank David Fleiss, Galerie 1900-2000, Philip E. Aarons and Shelley Fox Aarons, Fernanda Eberstadt and Alastair Bruton, The Estate of Jack Smith at Gladstone Gallery, Lilly Bajraktari, The Estate of Claes Oldenburg & Coosje van Bruggen, Steven Henry, Paula Cooper Gallery, Fales Library at New York University, The Getty Research Institute, Glenn Phillips, Timothy Baum, Jon Buller and Susan Schade, Ann Goldstein and Christopher Williams, Michael Krebber, Louise Lawler, Annie Ochmanek, and Jay Sanders for their essential contributions to the exhibition.

First edition, one of 250 announced copies, with 19 silver bromide contact prints by Smith tipped into yellow pages and a portrait of Smith by Ken Jacobs on the rear inside cover. The sequence of photographs is identical to the two copies above. The cover is a variant, with Zazeela's drawing silkscreened in pink. Other variants exist in different color combinations, for example with both the drawing and the text in yellow, or the drawing in green and the text in black.

First edition, one of 250 announced copies, with 19 silver bromide contact prints by Smith tipped into yellow pages and a portrait of Smith by Ken Jacobs on the rear inside cover. This copy incorporates an additional signature comprising the title page, which was not bound into the vast majority of copies. The photographs are arranged in a different sequence than in the other three copies above. Zazeela's drawing is silkscreened, as usual, in black. Jonas Mekas's copy, inscribed by him on the front inside cover.

THE BEAUTIFUL BOOK.

[New York]: [the dead language press], c. 1963

22.5 x 19 cm, loose sheets in wrappers, [8] pp.

Second edition (?), reputedly one of 12 copies, with 8 silver bromide contact prints by Smith tipped onto two folding sheets. The photographs are mounted on thick black cardstock rather than on yellow paper. The photographs for both the first and second editions appear to have been printed at the same time. Zazeela's drawing is silkscreened in a mixture of orange and red. All known copies of this edition are silkscreened in mixtures of two colors.

Untitled (The Great Pasty Triumph), c. 1960/1965

31 color photographs mounted onto painted wooden cubes

Each cube: 8.5 x 8.5 x 8.5 cm

The photographs date from c. 1960. Smith mounted them on these cubes in 1965 for his exhibition The Great Pasty Triumph at Ferewhon Gallery. Although no documentation of the show exists, the presence of nails on the unpainted versos of the cubes suggests that they were originally installed on the wall.
